

Reclaimed Thin Brick Floor Tile

Stone Farm

History Brought Home

Stone Farm scours the world to bring recycled, beautiful antique brick to numerous commercial and residential projects all across the country. We slice the salvaged bricks into a thickness that can be used as floor tile or wall veneer and carefully curate the bricks to provide a consistent blend to our clients.

Whether you are creating a stunning yet durable foyer, flooring a kitchen, or adding “wow” factor to a bathroom, our reclaimed thin brick floor tile makes it easy.

Look ahead for design ideas and how light and mortar can enhance the beauty of your brick.

Mill Blend wall veneer cuts can be used as floor tile if your pattern or design calls for a narrower rectangle.

Mill Blend Floor Tiles

We offer Floor Tiles made from our New England Mill Blend reclaimed brick. Salvaged from old factories, mills, and schools around New England, this blend is a mix of deep reds and terracotta oranges found in the Gilded Age brick structures of the Northeast. For flooring, we cut the top of the brick (rather than the face) as the larger surface area is more consistent with traditional brick floors and can be laid in a variety of patterns and sealed to provide a highly durable surface.

Dimensions:

Wide profile: 3 1/2" x 7 3/4" – 8 1/2" x 1/2"

Narrow profile: 2 3/8" x 7 1/2" – 8 1/4" x 1/2"

Generally, we use slices from the top of our reclaimed brick for Floor Tile, but slices from the front of the brick can also be used on floors. (See our Wall Veneer page.)

Perfectly Imperfect

Our clients choose Stone Farm reclaimed thin brick because they love the way the variations and imperfections enhance the individuality of their projects. As you can see in the detail (left): chips, broken corners and variable lengths, sizes and colors create the authentic feeling of a full brick floor with the convenience of adhering the thin tile to the subfloor.

With floor tile, because we cut from the top of the brick where the mortar lay, you will see more "white" pieces, although often this residue can be reduced by cleaning the bricks and simply scraping them together before installation. Broken pieces can be used where cuts are necessary in your pattern. The more particular you are about color or uniformity, the more waste you should order.

Light Effects

Choosing your color blend is only the start of creating the finished effect of your reclaimed thin brick project. The same brick can look very different based on the available light. Check your brick sample in the area you plan to install it. For example, the lighting in the two applications shown here presents the same brick in different ways.

Mortar Magic

Choosing your mortar carefully is essential for your reclaimed thin brick flooring project. A white mortar will highlight the striking tones of our New England Mill Blend, but a darker mortar may be easier to maintain. Likewise the depth of your mortar joints will make a difference on the look of your project and ease of cleaning. Mortar that is closer to flush with the surface of the bricks creates a smoother surface but is less dramatic than deeper joints.

Cleaning and Sealing

Properly sealed, a reclaimed thin brick floor can be easily cleaned by simply sweeping it with a broom or vacuuming with a brush attachment. Mopping with a solution of vinegar and water also freshens up this durable material. We recommend applying a matte finish sealant to protect the floor from stains without changing the beautiful patina of reclaimed brick.

Thin Brick Wall Veneer

At Stone Farm, we offer two reclaimed brick blends sliced to make wall veneer. Our New England Mill Blend is a mix of red and oranges we mix with white tones and blackened "soot stained" pieces. We searched the world to find our Antique Grey blend and finally partnered with reclamation teams in the southwest region of China along the banks of the Yangtze River (famous for its grey mud) to bring this new product to America.

Dimensions:

2 3/8" x 7 1/2" – 8 1/4" x 1/2"

As you can see here, for wall veneer we slice the face of the brick to create the authentic feel of a brick wall—but with easy installation.

Mill Blend Wall Veneer can be used as Floor Tile.

Mill Blend wall veneer cuts can be used as floor tile if your pattern or design calls for a narrower rectangle.

Endless Variety

Bringing history into your home with antique thin brick veneer creates unmistakable depth, richness and beauty. We look forward to talking with you about your reclaimed thin brick project and helping to turn your unique vision into reality.

---

Have a different project in mind?

Ask about our reclaimed Mill Blend thin strips, as well as our exterior reclaimed stone and cobbles.

Or if you're in the area, stop by and see us at our stoneyard in Monroe, Connecticut.

Stone Farm

StoneFarmLiving.com | 203-270-2900
thinbrick@stonefarmliving.com